FRENCH AND AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENTS IN EXILE SET UP ITALIAN CONDOMINIUM

RUSSIA ATTACKS GERMAN TERRITORY - RIFT IN ALLIANCE?

1906, Spring moves:

RUSSIA (Kinney): Fleet Sevastopol to Black Sea. Fleet Ankara support fleet Sevastopol to Black Sea. Army Serbia to Bulgaria. Army Rumania support army Serbia to Bulgaria. Army Ukraine support army Rumania. Army Vienna to Galicia. Army Budapest to Trieste. Fleet North Sea to Clyde. Army Norway to Yorkshire. Fleet North Sea convoy army Norway to Yorkshire. Army London support army Norway to Yorkshire. Army Sweden to Denmark.

GERMANY (Naus): Army Burgundy support army Belgium. Army Munich support army Kiel to Ruhr. Army Kiel to Ruhr. Army Berlin to Kiel. Army Belgium support army Kiel to Ruhr. Army Paris to Gascony. Army Brest support army Paris to Gascony. Fleet Denmark support Russian army Denmark.

Turkey (Reinsel): Army Bulgaria to Constantinople. Fleet Trieste to Albania. Fleet Albania to Greece. Fleet Ionian Sea to Eastern Mediterranean. Fleet Greece to Aegean Sea. Fleet Black Sea to Armenia.

FRANCE (Greene): Army Ruhr to Burgundy. Army Venice stand. Fleet Tyrrhenian Sea to Naples. Fleet Western Mediterranean to Tunis. Army Spain stand.

ENGLAND (Tzudiker): Fleet English Channel to Belgium. Army Edinburgh to Liverpool.

AUSTRIA (Koning): Army Rome support ITALIAN Fleet Tyrrhenian Sea to Naples.

Underlined moves do not succeed. The French army in Rhr is dislodged and has only Holland open for retreat. The support order of the German Fleet Denmark is incomprehensible to the gamesmaster and consequently fails. The gamesmaster thinks he knows what was meant by the Austrian order to its unit in Rome; however, to order support to an Italian fleet when there are no Italian units on the board is rather far out and this order likewise fails. Deadline for the retreat is Tuesday, 12 November. Deadline for Fall moves is Saturday, 23 November.

Players should note that Jack Greene Jr. has college address Whitman college, Walla Walla, Wash., 99362.

Press Releases.

Madrid, Free French Army Headquarters. The Duc de Greene allotted the province of Portugal to the Free English Army. "If it, the present European situation that is, continues in its present downward trend, then any or all English forces that want to, may retire to Portugal." Venice. Louis XX today restated his desire for peace. "Hell, they've already had a piece."

Moscow. To Berlin, please don't interpret the recent movement of our Swedish army toward Denmark as a change of attitude on the part of our government. General Lemakov got a bit excited after the Norwegian army left him alone to guard Scandinavia, and he ordered his army to Denmark without official sanction. He is currently enjoying his retirement in one of our northern resorts, and any Russian soldiers who remain in Denmark are being recalled immediately. Thank you for not prosecuting these offenders.

London. Proclamation of Russian army of Liberation to the British People. We thank you for the peaceful resignation you have been exhibiting thus far. We have no thoughts of malice toward you, and we promise to return your homeland when this horrendous battle is over.

Vienna. Government of Occupation to Venetian Invaders. Your recent aid and comfort to the Turkish rebels is greatly deplored. Return immediately to your homeland... er, to Spain, and quit meddling.

Florence. Louis XX and the Emperor Franz-Josef would like to take this time in declaring the allied Italian Empire. Peace anybody? We'll trade our armies for our survival.

Charles M. Reinsel, 120 8th Ave., Clarion, Pa., 16214:

I hate long waits. They take all the fun out of a game and may sometimes ruin or change the course of a game.

((+(As the proposed schedule of deadlines permits a game year to be played in less time than the old Armageddonia one, shaving a week or two off the latter's time, I assume that this is a vote in favour of the proposed schedule. The only other player to comment was whole heartedly in favour of the proposed schedule. So the latter is now in effect. -jamcc)+))
